

Speaker 1: I have great healthcare through work, but healthcare isn't everything, and there are other ways I could be protecting my family's future. There are going to be times I need legal help, and I need to know I have a lawyer I can trust without having to spend too much time and money figuring out where to turn. And that's why Legal Plans can be so important. I know I'm getting unlimited access to licensed attorneys for common issues that would come up, without breaking the bank. For me, it was estate planning. I was ready to plan for the future, and with a Legal Plan, I got the help I needed from a lawyer I knew I could count on. My annual cost is less than what a single hour of what many lawyer's time would be, and I can get help with things like wills, real estate paper work, identity theft issues, and even traffic ticket defense. I feel empowered and more confident that my family is ready for the future thanks to my MetLife Legal Plan, and you can too. Enroll through work.
