Speaker 1: I have great healthcare through work, but there are things my family might need that aren't always covered. Eyecare isn't just about seeing more clearly, it's an important part of overall health and can even help detect certain diseases—so my family's coverage wasn't complete without it. That's why Vision Insurance can be so important—it's not just about glasses and exams, but about preventive care, too.

When I went in for my eye exam, I was surprised when my doctor told me that I was at risk for high cholesterol, something that I got under control with my physician thanks to early detection. On top of that, my coverage gave me access to a doctor that was right for me thanks to a [Large Network] large network, and discounts on yearly [Exams] exams, [Glasses and Contacts] glasses and contacts, and even certain [Laser Vision Correction] kinds of laser vision correction.

I feel comfortable [Protect more of your family's health.] and confident knowing more of my family's health is covered thanks to MetLife Vision Insurance, and you can, too. Enroll through work.
